MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

"The government you elect is the government you deserve."

– Thomas Jefferson

Evil triumphs when good men do nothing. And this is precisely why the world needs to rise and take notice—to pay attention to where it is headed.

We begin to accept the world as it is when we stop thinking beyond our vested interests. The simplest of things, the most precious one, and the most sought-after value is the freedom of mankind. And today, more than at any other time before, it is under threat—because the most advanced and the most powerful countries in the world are resorting to coercion and authoritarianism.

The future of the world seems shaken by the absolute lack of statesmanship among its most powerful leaders.

Now, more than ever before, dialogue must be encouraged to enable peaceful negotiations while preserving the dignity of nations.

To uphold the basic values of liberty, human rights, and equality, we must push harder and seek diplomatic solutions.

Let us not ignore the threats posed by authoritarian governments, which have not spared even academic institutions under the guise of nationalistic interest.

Let's initiate a change.
Let's begin with us.
See you at PACMUN!

MESSAGE FROM CHARGÉ D'AFFAIRES

Diplomacy is the art of building bridges—not walls.

Shreya Chopra
Chargé d'affaires

We embarked on the journey of PACMUN with a clear vision—to foster a vibrant culture of debate, diplomacy, and dialogue among students. Our aim has always been to offer a platform where young minds can delve into the art of negotiation, cultivate critical thinking, and develop the finesse required for diplomacy.

After the remarkable success of our first two editions, which witnessed the enthusiastic participation of nearly 600 delegates, we are proud to unveil the third edition—PACMUN 3.0. This reimagined chapter promises to be more dynamic, engaging, and transformative than ever before.

Serving as the Chargé d'Affaires has been both a privilege and a profound learning experience. It is a role I have embraced with pride and purpose, striving to create opportunities where students feel empowered to express, explore, and evolve.

As we prepare to open the curtains on PACMUN 3.0, I look forward to welcoming delegates to an unforgettable experience—one where ideas will ignite, voices will rise, and the spirit of diplomacy will shine brighter than ever.

Warm regards,
Shreya Chopra

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARIAT

Dear Delegates,

Warm greetings from Pacific World School.

It is with great pride and anticipation that we welcome you to the third edition of Pacific Model United Nations, that is, PACMUN@3.0.

After the resounding success of our past editions which welcomed delegates from leading institutions and the most reputed Executive Board Members in the circuit, this year's edition promises to be even grander, a confluence of intellect, diplomacy, and youth-led impact.

'If you are not outraged, you are not paying attention!'
We chose these words not to provoke, but to AWAKEN.

Because somewhere, a child is denied education for their gender.
Because somewhere, a war rages for resources masked as ideologies.
Because somewhere, climate change is not a forecast—it's a funeral.

And yet, you are here. Not just to simulate diplomacy, but to feel it, question it, and rebuild it. From meticulously curated committees to stimulating agendas, Pacific World School offers an unparalleled platform for debate, diplomacy, and dialogue through PACMUN. Whether you're an experienced MUNer or a first-time delegate, we invite you to be a part of something larger than yourself. A movement driven by voice, vision, and purpose.

We urge you to register at the earliest to be allotted the committee and portfolio of your preference. For any pressing concerns, questions or inquiries, please reach out to the secretariat via pacmun@pacificworldschool.com or via the contact details provided. We challenge you to let your outrage lead to action. Let your discomfort lead to discussion. Let your voice disturb the silence at PACMUN@3.0.

Because if not now, when? And if not you, who?
Can't wait to see you shake things up at PACMUN@3.0!
To another year of diplomatic fervour —

Warm Regards
The Secretariat

UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL

Agenda

Addressing the Gaza Crisis:
Humanitarian Access, Security
Measures, and Effective Solution
Implementation.

GLOBAL CRISIS DEEPENS

Description

Prolonged conflict, mass displacement, and the collapse of essential infrastructure have created an acute humanitarian crisis in Gaza. Safe, sustained aid access and civilian security guarantees are urgently needed, alongside robust ceasefire monitoring. Recurrent violence and political deadlock continue to destabilize not just Gaza but the broader Middle East. As a key power, the U.S. plays a pivotal role in diplomacy, humanitarian support, and reconstruction. Lasting peace demands a shift from temporary truces to a comprehensive plan addressing both immediate relief and the root causes of the conflict.

ALL INDIA POLITICAL PARTY MEET

Agenda

Anti-Terror Policy vs. Immediate Ceasefire for Stability: Deliberation over India's Diplomatic, Military, and Political Strategy towards Pakistan.

TENSIONS ON THE EDGE

Description

India's approach to Pakistan stands at a strategic crossroads, balancing counterterrorism imperatives with the need to avoid escalation. Cross-border attacks—like Pahalgam, Uri, and Pulwama—underscore the urgency of a firm counterterror framework focused on deterrence, rapid response, and secure borders. Yet, the sustainability of militarized engagement remains contested amid calls for diplomatic recalibration.

Pakistan's internal volatility, shifting alliances, and global dynamics complicate India's policy options. Navigating this landscape demands a strategy that neutralizes non-state threats, safeguards sovereignty, and leverages global partnerships to explore pathways to peace without compromising national interests.

ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL

Agenda

Addressing the Escalating Global Trade War and Its Implications on International Economic Stability.

TRADE WAR INTENSIFIES

Description

Escalating U.S.-China tensions, EU protectionism, and retaliatory actions by emerging economies have destabilized global trade, fragmenting supply chains and dampening investment. Tariffs on semiconductors and EVs, export curbs on critical minerals, and mechanisms like the EU's carbon border tax have triggered policy backlash worldwide.

Developing regions—especially South Asia and Sub-Saharan Africa—face trade shocks, inflation, and reduced capital flows. As trust in multilateral frameworks like the WTO erodes, trade wars are evolving into tools of geopolitical leverage. Stabilizing global trade demands renewed commitment to dispute resolution, inclusive dialogue, and reforms in trade governance.

HISTORICAL CRISIS COMMITTEE

HISTORICAL CRISIS COMMITTEE

Agenda

IRAQI SITUATION: CLASSIFIED Freeze
Date, Time: 20/03/2003 — 05:00 hrs,
Baghdad Time.

IRAQ UNDER FIRE

Description

At 05:00 hrs on 20 March 2003, U.S.-led coalition forces launched Operation Iraqi Freedom, initiating targeted strikes based on contested claims of WMDs and terror links. The invasion led to the fall of the Ba'athist regime but triggered a prolonged crisis marked by insurgency, sectarian conflict, and the rise of ISIS.

Post-invasion governance failures, fractured security, and humanitarian collapse entrenched instability and drew in global powers. Civilian suffering, displacement, and urban devastation reshaped Iraq's socio-political fabric. This moment remains a pivotal freeze point—one that continues to shape international security, diplomacy, and debates on military intervention.

UNITED NATIONS ENVIRONMENT PROGRAMME

Agenda

The Arctic and Antarctic Under Threat:
Examining the Environmental Impact of Territorial Intervention, Militarisation and Resource & Exploitation.

POLES IN PERIL

Description

The Arctic and Antarctic face mounting environmental and strategic pressures. Melting ice has unlocked Arctic maritime routes like the Northern Sea Route, triggering Russian militarisation, U.S. naval activity, and China's Polar Silk Road ambitions. Resource extraction in fragile ecosystems further escalates the risks.

In Antarctica, despite the 1959 Treaty's demilitarised framework, expanding infrastructure by key powers—under scientific pretexts—raises alarms over dual-use intent. Urgent global action is needed to enforce treaties, halt militarisation and drilling, and reaffirm these polar regions as protected commons vital to climate stability and international peace.

UNITED NATIONS GENERAL ASSEMBLY (SOCHUM)

Agenda

Deliberation over human rights for LGBTQIA+ Communities in Conservative Nations with special emphasis on Islamic Communities.

RIGHTS OR RULES?

Description

Across many conservative and Islamic states, LGBTQIA+ individuals face systemic criminalisation, persecution, and denial of basic civil rights. In Iran and Saudi Arabia, same-sex relations are met with extreme penalties, including death, while Pakistan's outdated laws continue to criminalise queer identities despite limited trans recognition. State-driven repression, censorship, and lack of access to justice, healthcare, and public services create unsafe, often life-threatening conditions, forcing many into silence or exile.

This agenda examines the tension between religious conservatism and universal human rights, highlighting the role of grassroots reform, international legal frameworks, and diplomatic engagement in advancing decriminalisation and protection for LGBTQIA+ communities.

UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL

Agenda

The Responsibility to Protect:
Confronting Human Rights Violations
in Taliban-Controlled Afghanistan and Strengthening International Accountability.

ECHOES BEHIND THE VEIL

Description

Since the Taliban's return in August 2021, Afghanistan has witnessed a sharp erosion of human rights—particularly for women, girls, minorities, and civil society actors. Bans on female education, mobility, and public participation, along with persecution of Hazaras, Sikhs, Shia Muslims, and former officials, reflect systemic repression and impunity.

With democratic institutions dismantled and legal accountability absent, international mechanisms under the Responsibility to Protect (R2P) are critical. Strengthening fact-finding missions, sanctions, and ICC referrals is essential to uphold justice. A coordinated global response—led by the UN, regional actors, and civil society—is vital to prevent further normalization of authoritarian abuses.

THE MARVEL MULTIVERSAL RESPONSE COUNCIL

Agenda

The Return of Tony Stark: CLASSIFIED.

MULTIVERSE IN DANGER?

Description

Amid rumors of Tony Stark's re-emergence following his presumed death during the Battle of Earth, unexplained Stark-Tech activity in restricted zones has alarmed global intelligence networks and former Avengers operatives.

His alleged return raises critical concerns over identity, bioengineering, and the ethical limits of post-human technologies. The weaponization of AI and unauthorized replication of Stark's legacy threaten to destabilize global alliances and escalate arms races.

With S.W.O.R.D., Wakandan scientists, and ex-Stark Industries personnel investigating Project RESURRECT, the world stands at a crossroads—between innovation and extinction, legacy and liability, man and machine.
